NOVEMBER 21, 1994

WELCOME PAT HARTLEY

PAT HARTLEY has been appointed to the position of Associate Dean Health Sciences Programs effective November 21, 1994.

Pat has an M.Ed (Adult Education) from the University of British Columbia and an extensive background working at VCC as an L.P.N. relief instructor, Nursing Aide instructor, Assistant Department Head of Practical Nursing and since 1988 Department Head for Nursing.

As the Associate Dean Health Sciences Programs, Pat will be responsible through the Dean of Applied Programs for the coordination, supervision and leadership of instructional matters within the Division.

1995 TIME MANAGEMENT ALERTI!

In the past the Furchasing Department has attempted to coordinate and place orders. Unfortunately, the huge variety of diaries now available has made it impractical for Purchasing to continue this practice.

As diaries are relatively small purchases, may we suggest that individuals, with department head approval, purchase diaries individually from petty cash funds or go to the Bookstore and choose from their selection.

The KEC Receiving Department currently has stock of both sizes (jumbo & ideal) of desk calendar stands & refills as well as 17" x22" and 19" x 24" desk calendars. Contact Dennis Cumming at local 7399 DIRECTLY to order these desk calendars.

I will be pleased to provide further information about calendars as needed. Please call me at local 7105.

Electronic Mail & Internet Services

The Information and Computing Services department at V.C.C. now provides electronic mail and Internet services for faculty and staff members. These services may be accessed by existing terminal users, and for new users via dial-up modems.

Dial-up Access

Access to these services at City Centre is provided through two telephone numbers, one for on-campus use (8900) and the other for external access (681-8655). There are currently two modems attached to each of these lines. These are U.S. Robotics Sportster 14,400 Bps modems. Your communications software should be set to 8 data bits, 1 stop bit and no parity. We suggest using vt100 terminal emulation.

 Please try to keep your connect time to a minimum during peak hours (8:00 - 16:30). There are many people sharing these dial-up lines.

E-Mail

Applications for a user ID and e-mail address are available from the I.C.S. department. The electronic mail program we are providing on our system is called "pine". It is an easy to use, menu driven program, developed by the University of Washington. An instruction booklet is available from the I.C.S. department.

File Transfer

Files may be transferred to and from your Unix account and your PC using the kermit, xmodem or zmodem file transfer protocols. Disk space is LIMITED on the Unix computer, please keep the size of your Unix account to a minimum.
