MacGregor Childcare Centre Celebrates 30 Years

The dedicated staff at the Centre welcome you to learn about what they do and to celebrate the College and the Centre that has supported them for 30 years.

Vancouver Community College
King Edward Campus – Library
Box 24620 Station F
Vancouver, B.C. V5N 5T9

Leave Out the PO Box Number

Vancouver Community College has revised the address of the King Edward Campus, removing the Post Office Box number, which has in the past fostered confusion and caused delays when mailers shortened the address.

Marketing and Purchasing have worked with Canada Post on the new address, which includes an all-new postal code that was created especially to correspond to the Broadway street address.

New address for the King Edward Campus reads:

1155 East Broadway
Vancouver, B.C.
V5T 4V5

This change was initiated to deal with several logistical, service and marketing issues, including misdirected or delayed mail that resulted when correspondents left out the PO Box from the KEC address; those delays were owing to how Canada Post handled the Box mail, something that the 'new' address will fix.

"We were seeing a lot of confusion among people sending us mail," says purchasing manager Dave Crowe, who handles the college's liaison with Canada Post. "It was time for us to simplify the mailing address for KEC: now it's simply the street address and our new postal code."

KEC's 'old' address using the PO Box will continue to operate for at least a year, so there is no need for the college to re-do materials, but can make the change when stationery, business cards and other items come up for reprinting.

Some existing program and other materials may have addresses that include the Broadway street address with the previous postal code. Departments re-producing materials featuring the KEC address should check carefully to ensure that the proper postal code (V5T 4V5) accompanies the street address of 1155 East Broadway.

E-mail users should revise their signature files to reflect the new address.

For more information or further clarification please feel free to contact Dave Crowe at 7106 or Stephen Barrington at local 7063.

Ian Forsyth Remembered

The college recently suffered the loss of a longstanding faculty person, Ian Forsyth, who worked as a Counsellor at City Centre campus.

Ian has been an anchor in the City Centre Counselling Department for close to twenty years. A quiet and reflective person, Ian was known as the one to see and present the bigger picture during meetings and in general discussions. He was very easy to talk to and loved to take short breaks with his colleagues, especially Hilary Pearson. Ian served a term as department head and was well respected for his collegial and supportive approach.

Ian took an active part in the Faculty Association, serving as a board member and taking part in negotiations. He was also a long standing member of the Joint Steering Committee and was appreciated for the clarity that he brought to difficult issues. He was always vigilante on behalf of educational support faculty and assured that our needs were well represented. Ian's love for and commitment to the College was further manifested in his decision to continue working half time throughout his illness and treatment and even as recently as this past June.

Ian was devoted to his wife, Judi, and three daughters, Suzanne, Jody and Stephanie. He has two granddaughters and is also survived by his mother. His passions were music, especially the blues, and cars. He was a regular at Vancouver's blues venues and knew the recording dates and artists of all the music of the fifties and sixties. A big Elvis fan, it is fitting that he passed away on the 25th anniversary of the death of Elvis Presley.

With clients, Ian was a great listener and well known for his exceptional empathy. He supported countless students through to the successful completion of their programs. He was also highly respected by classroom faculty who came to him for advice about challenging students and various classroom issues. His timely wisdom was much valued and appreciated.

Ian held a special place in the hearts of those of us who worked directly with him in the Counselling Department, and he will be missed yet fondly remembered for years to come.

Bursary Honours Ian Forsyth

Ian Forsyth's family is establishing a Bursary Endowment Fund in his memory. The fund will be held in perpetuity and will provide funds for students in financial need. The family has not yet established criteria, but all donations to the fund will help to provide more financial assistance for VCC students.

Donations to the Ian Forsyth Bursary Fund should be sent to the VCC Foundation in the form of cash, cheques, MasterCard or Visa. Foundation contact is Sheilah Henderson 604-871-7237 or shenderson@vcc.ca.

celebrate 30
successful years!

Thursday, Oct.10, 2002

11:30 - 12:30 p.m.

KEC Cafeteria

- McGregor Childcare Centre officially opened its doors in April, 1972. We're proud of the wonderful working relationships the Centre has developed with Vancouver Community College and the community

- What is McGregor ChildCare Centre all about?

- ☺ providing quality care for children of parents from the College and community
- ☺ training for students of Early Childhood Education
- ☺ as a non-profit Centre we must rely heavily on funding from our enrollment fees, approval of city and provincial grants, donations including a grant from Vancouver Community College, and the college community.
- ☺ There are 37 spaces for children; 12 spaces are for children under 3 years and 25 spaces for children 3 to 5 years. Enrollment priority is given to Vancouver Community College students, faculty and staff from both campuses.

- ☺ The Centre provides an inclusive program. There are 6 spaces of the 37 available for children who require an individual education plan in order to meet special needs

- How is the college community able to provide support?
 - ☞ donate toward operational costs
 - ☞ participate as a Board member
 - ☞ designate a donation through the United Way campaign
 - ☞ volunteer & support various campaigns and fundraising events
 - ☞ select the Centre as your charitable choice (tax receipts issued)
 - ☞ designate a donation to assist student families
 - ☞ contribute or donate to capital item(s)

- Did you know?

- ◆ More than 30 employees have had their children enrolled in the Centre. Many of these parents have also served as Board members.
- ◆ Susan Mumford is the staff member and administrator with the longest length of service - 29+ years.
- ◆ The nine staff members have a combined total of 162 years of experience and 110 years of service in the Centre.

- Highlights...

- ☼ The Centre was the proud recipient of the 2002 Community Enrichment Award in recognition of outstanding contributions to the community of Mount Pleasant.

- ☼ In conjunction with WestCoast Multicultural and Diversity Services the Centre will participate in a Bullying Prevention Pilot Project.
- ☼ The Centre provides practicum placement for students from many different programs including VCC Early Childhood Care and Education and Dental Hygiene.
- ☼ The Christmas Campaign includes both campuses and other centres in the network. In addition to gifts for each family, through sponsorship and cash donations, we were able to provide a number of food hampers for the neediest families as well as a book for each child at the Centre.

Way to go!

Susan and staff are to be commended for their ongoing dedication and efforts in not only meeting but exceeding the needs of the children and families at the Centre. They have built a trusting relationship among children, parents, staff, Board of Directors, VCC and community. Throughout the years, the staff have worked extremely hard to develop the Centre to be the success it is today.

Special thanks go out to:

The staff at the Centre extend their heartfelt appreciation to all those who have helped make it possible to enrich the lives of the children and families cared for in the past 30 years.

VCC Chefs Donate Time to make PNE Show a Success for 4th Year

The major event in Vancouver each year in late summer is the Fair at the PNE. For VCC's Culinary Arts department, the big event is the Pacific Cooking Show at the PNE. For the fourth year, VCC chef instructors entertained audiences with three shows per day for the full 17 days of the PNE Fair from August 17 to September 2.

Although the arrangement with the PNE is to reimburse the College for all costs, the Culinary Arts instructors have donated their time (double shifting and working on weekends and holidays) to raise funds for various activities. The initial seed money in the JJ's Renovation project came from the first year of the cooking show. This year, some funds were allocated for upgrading the buffet accessories at JJ's and travel costs for a student team to compete later in the year and the balance was placed in general revenues.

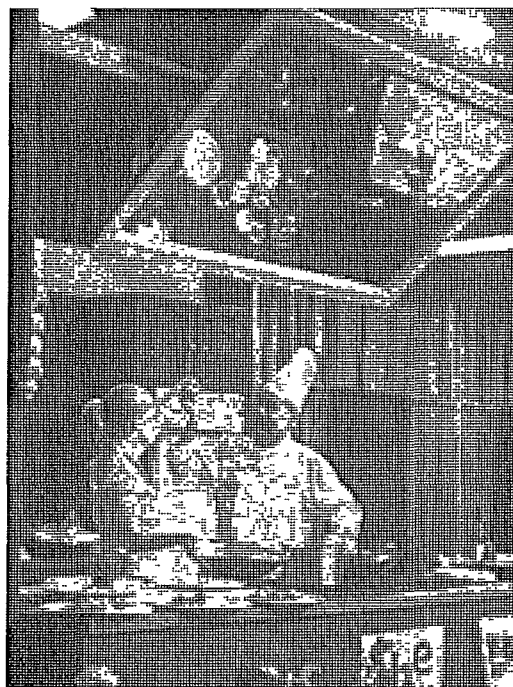

Each day at 1:30 and 6:30, VCC chef instructors were "on stage" providing cooking tips to audiences of up to 300 people. Interspersed with information on the Culinary Arts programs and the College, the chef instructors offered a wide variety of recipes, ranging from desserts to seafood. A change this year was that two audience members were selected by answering a question on VCC to sit at a special table near the stage and dine on that show's specialty. The 3:30 show featured a celebrity chef who was assisted on stage by the VCC instructor. VCC participants this year (with number of years of participation following) were Susan Shacker (1), Settimio Sicoli (4), Ernst Wallgram (4), Bob Feist (4), Harald Bonkowski (4), James Hutton (4), Glen O'Flaherty (4), Thaung Yan (2), Conrad Leung (3), Rick Irwin (4), Mike Steele (4 - 2 as guest), Rob Krauss (3 - 1 as guest), J C Felicella (4 - 2 as guest). Bonkowski, O'Flaherty and Dave Donaldson shared hosting duties. Rumours that Harald and his booming voice are being considered for a syndicated cooking show are unsubstantiated.

As part of the PNE commitment, VCC prepared a breakfast on site on August 15 for 150 people from the Board of Trade, Tourism Vancouver, the Vancouver Board of Trade and various media outlets.

VCC donated a basket (containing culinary, dental and hairdressing products and materials) to the Variety Club Celebrity Egg Auction on August 29. The VCC basket, with the addition of a dozen fruit trees and the largest egg, raised $3000 as part of the overall fundraising of $26,750.

Media coverage included two articles in the Province and coverage on Shaw Cable. Over 8500 VCC fact sheets (with recipes) were distributed throughout the show and each attendee to the Fair (approximately 1,000,000 people) received a day's events sheet, which included reference to VCC and the cooking show.

Maritza's Maintenance Message

Tip-top Shape Projection Screens

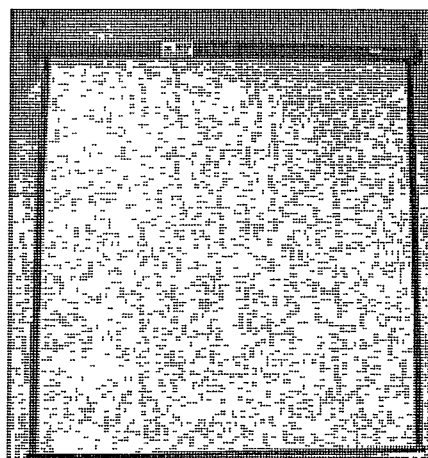

The environment for learning is very important to the teaching process. How classrooms are equipped and maintained influences how students approach the instruction and how teachers guide the learning process.

With all the attention given the various components of an effective projection system, the most important piece of equipment for getting the message across is often the most overlooked: the projection screen.

There are several criteria influencing the selection of the right projection screen such as size, placement, sight lines, surface types and aesthetics.

The standard roll-down screen used in our classrooms is made of a material that is a matte (flat) white colour. This material is mildew resistant and flame retardant and it has excellent projection characteristics and a wide viewing angle. These screens operate similar to a window shade. You pull them down for use and let them roll up when the show is over.

Our last, but certainly not least, consideration in screen selection is the issue of screen maintenance. Screens can last a lifetime with proper care. Ongoing support will always be essential to maintain the equipment in optimal working condition.

Typical abuse of screens in educational settings include:

- a) accidental soiling (writing on the screen, finger prints, dust, chalk, fluid splashes)
- b) damage to the roll-down mechanism from inadvertent or constant handling

Under no circumstances should the screen be made wet or cleaned with any material containing bleach or other chemicals; mild soap and warm water can be used to clean the surface.

If you have a problem (mechanism/soiling) with the projection screen in a classroom, call me at local 8614 and I will take prompt action.

Employee Opportunity

During the summer, the College issued a Request for Proposal for a supplier of desktop PCs. The successful bidder was a Richmond company, Seanix Technology Inc.

The successful bid included an Employee Purchase Plan to enable VCC employees to purchase Seanix PCs at very advantageous prices. I recently received the details from Seanix, and have put copies on the Common drives at KEC and City Centre, in the directory "Employee PC Purchase". The document also includes an order form.

Please note that the College will not be involved in the purchase of computers other than the negotiation of the Plan's terms.

Des Dougan
Director, Information & Computing Services

Appointment: Director of Financial Services

I am pleased to announce that Brian Sommerfeldt, CGA, has been appointed to the position of Director of Financial Services, effective September 23, 2002.

Brian comes to us after spending twelve years in the health sector where for the past six years, he has been Director, Finance & Corporate Services for the B.C. Transplant Society. In this position, he provided leadership during the recent period of change in the health industry. His health sector background, combined with a number of years spent in private industry, provide him with experience in strategic planning, business development and financial accountability. He is recognized for his ability to build strong, effective teams with a commitment to high standards, service and quality.

I hope that you will join me in welcoming Brian later this month and in wishing him a rewarding and successful career at VCC.

New Video Booking Procedures

This is a reminder that all video bookings are now received at the Information Desk at your campus Library. A video booking form, providing complete title information and indicating desired show dates, must be completed. Copies of the form were mailed to all departments a couple of weeks ago. If you did not receive a form please ask for one at the Library Information Desk. (Online booking will be available shortly!)

A note of caution: bookings are taken on a first-come first-served basis only. To avoid disappointment it is vital that you book videos well in advance of your desired show dates.

We look forward to your continued use of our video collection and support of our media booking service!

Library Privileges For Faculty

Did you know that the Library will grant extensions on loans of videos to faculty? If you would like to borrow a video for longer than the 3 day loan period, let us know when you are checking it out. If another patron doesn't have it booked we'll simply extend the due date for you. Not only will this eliminate the need for you to renew after 3 days but you may avoid accumulating fines as well! All you have to do is ask.

Easy Email Reminders

Did you know that you can receive your Library notices by e-mail? All you have to do is provide the Library with your e-mail account and you will receive reminders and notices from the Library much more quickly and efficiently. Please inform Library staff of your current e-mail next time you're in to take advantage of this service.

Show Time!

Faculty members: Watch for flyers coming your way about four upcoming film showings from the Library!

Love, Culture and the Kitchen Sink (46 minutes)

This is reality TV, but Canadian style. In this intimate and charming documentary, four Canadian couples talk about their lives and what brought them together. In many ways, these are typical Canadian couples, but the theme that binds them is that each couple is cross-cultural coming from traditions and circumstances different from that of their spouse or fiancée.

Using candid interviews as well as scenes of family gatherings, cultural celebrations and even one colourful wedding (does the bride wear white or red or both?), we witness how these mixed-culture relationships meet inevitable challenges and thrive. This is a thoughtful, joyous film reflecting the cultural diversity that is Canada and proves that love may indeed conquer all.

The Concert Stages of Europe (24 minutes)

From the pen of well-known BC author Jack Hodgins, this sweet story is about a fifteen year old piano student whose mother has dreams of glory for the young musician. Barclay, who prefers to be called Clay, has many dreams and fantasies, but few involve satisfying his mother's wish for him to win the local talent show. Beware, all parents, there is a lesson to be learned here!

Connection (24 minutes)

Canada's pre-eminent short story writer, Alice Munro, explores the relationship of a young couple. He is upper Canada and a snob; she is a farm girl now presiding over a smart and luxurious lifestyle. A call from a spunky older cousin results in a painful and hilarious candlelit dinner that confirms the shakiness of this marriage.

Tango in a Cold City (42 minutes)

As late fall cold and gloom descend on Canada, let us escape through the passion and power of Tango. Here you will meet Argentinian immigrants and other Canadians whose lives and losses are filled by the sensuality and life force of this most dramatic of dances. Watch the exquisite dancing and listen to the strains of Tango's haunting music. You too may find the music, the history, the sentiment, the social history incredibly captivating and become one of those Canadians who live for the art and philosophy that is Tango.

Reach the Community as a Volunteer ESL Tutor

The Homefront Learning Program of the ESL Outreach Department at King Edward Campus provides free ESL tutoring to non-English speaking adults who are unable to attend existing classes. Volunteers tutor on a one-to-one basis in the learner's home and receive a free training course and statement of completion. Homefront Tutors also receive ongoing support from the Homefront Instructors and have access to resources and materials. The minimum time commitment is two hours a week for six months.

This award-winning program has been in effect since 1979 and currently has approximately 200 volunteers tutoring learners in Vancouver and Burnaby.

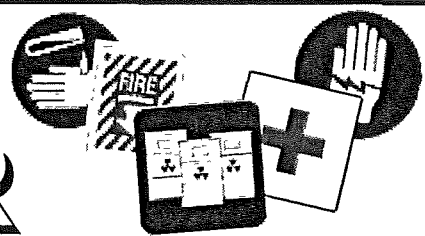

Homefront runs 6 trainings a year and can always use more volunteers. For further information and details on the next training session, please contact Penny Barrados at 871-7277 or email pbarrados@vcc.ca

VCC Supports Ji Won Park

Thanks to VCC employees and students more than $2000 has been contributed to the Ji Won Park Fund. The generosity of dozens of people will assist the ESL student from Korea who was brutally attacked and strangled while jogging in Stanley Park last May. Although Ms. Park has made dramatic progress and is now out of a coma, she faces a long and difficult struggle to regain the semblance of a normal life.

If you would like to help Ji Won and her family, donations can still be made to the fund which has been established at the Scotia Bank. For more information on how to contribute, contact Norm Dooley at 7513.

SAFETY CORNER

Dear Safety Sam:

I'm a new instructor at VCC. In case either myself or one of my students require first aid, what do I do and who do I notify?

Signed,

Boo-boo Bob

Dear Boo-boo Bob:

Great question Bob!! Here at VCC we have an Emergency Procedures Handbook that you may find helpful with other Emergency situations as well as how to obtain Emergency First Aid. The Handbook is available through the Facilities Department located on the first floor.

To obtain Emergency First Aid follow these basic procedures:

* If the injury is life threatening, immediately call 9-911 then contact security. Never leave an injured person unattended. Send someone else for help, giving specific instruction as to what is wrong with the individual (i.e. not breathing, bleeding badly, unconscious), your exact location, the nearest entrance and ask the person to return to you with confirmation that they did indeed reach 911. Send an additional person to wait for the ambulance, fire or police so they can direct them to the emergency.

* For non life-threatening injuries where the victim is unable to reach health services, call security at 4444 or by using a help phone. Stay with the injured person until security/first aid arrives. Once again you should give security accurate information as to where you are located and the status of the victim.

* For non life-threatening injuries where the victim is able to reach health services, treatment will be carried out there. Escort the victim to health services and stay with them until first aid takes over.

* For any injury that involves a member of the VCC staff, contact the Safety Assistant in the Facilities Department at local 8456 so an accident investigation can be done and if necessary forms filled out to apply for Workers Compensation.

Signed,
Safety Sam

50/50 DRAW AND THE WINNERS ARE:

May 2002 - Marta Goodwin

June 2002 - Sherie Kaplan

July 2002 - Marta Goodwin

August 2002 - Dave Greenall

The other winners are, of course, the students who win $500 tuition scholarships to VCC. These scholarships are available to one student from each of nine local high schools, and to dependants of full-time VCC employees

Right: Barbara Ash, Dean, Academic/ ABE/ASE Programs enters students in the draw at the Student Services Day.

Student Services Day

Students at both campuses turned out in record numbers for this year's Student Services Day - Tuesday, September 10 at KEC and Thursday, September 12 at CC. Staff from Food Services, Child Care, Counselling, the Registrar, Financial Aid, the Learning Centre, the Bookstore, Security, Human Rights and the Library were on hand to answer questions and provide information about the various Student Services available on campus.

Each student received a "passport" which they had stamped at the tables they visited. (Bill Miller's lamb stamp was definitely a favorite!) As well as chatting with the staff, students were able to shop for bargains at the Bookstore table, enjoy the snacks offered by Food Services and enter the raffle which took place at the end of the day. Dale Dorn dropped by right on queue at KEC to draw the winning tickets and Barb Ash drew the names at CC.

Both days were a great success with a record number of students - close to 1400 - participating.
