VVI LIBRARY FILM JANUARY 5, 1984 (12:15 Library Screening Room)

RUTH STOUT'S GARDEN (23 min)

Ruth Stout is a peppery older party with frank and forthright views, and great personal charm. The film visits with her as she talks about her "no dig/no work" garden that uses unorthodox methods which are nevertheless ecologically sound and productive. Ruth's commentary reveals her singular attitudes toward life, her family, and her interests.

ZEA (5 min)

A superb visual trick that will mystify its audience, this film transforms the commonplace into magic. Its making presented a serious technical challenge because the subject was both elusive and explosive.
