- 1) I.D. 101: SURVIVAL IN A NEW PROFESSION
(Official Name: The Public Education System)

I will again be giving this course at Vancouver Vocational Institute on Saturday mornings, 9:00 a.m. to Noon, starting in October. The course will be made up of five main sessions for all participants, interspersed with small group sessions, at times more convenient to you, and reading.

There is one main purpose for you to take the course - to increase your competence as a (fledgling) instructor.

The dates and topics to be covered are provisionally:

October 22:	The College and the Campus
November 3:	The Adult Learner and Helping Him Learn Effectively
November 26:	Course Preparation and Lesson Planning
December 3:	Evaluation
January 15:	The College Act; Supporting Agencies, Summary

This is a preliminary notice. Continue to watch this space for future information.

- 2) INSTRUCTOR'S DIPLOMA

As well as offering I.D. 101 (see the notice above), the University of British Columbia has offered to provide instructors for the other I.D. courses during the year.

I have suggested the following, very tentative schedule:

I.D. 102 and I.D. 103, alternate Saturdays during January to March to allow you to take one or both courses.

I.D. 104, April - June.

The Centre for Continuing Education would like a list of the names of instructors who are interested.

Since I will be on vacation for most of September, I have asked Ron Fussell to prepare these lists.

Therefore, if you are interested in taking any of the I.D. courses, including I.D. 101, please let Ron know as soon as possible.
