A GR-R-RAND
ST. PAT'S DAY!

1) COLLEGE BOARD MEETINGS

1. At its inaugural meeting of February 28th, the new College Board elected the following for 1978/80:

J.C.M. Scott	-	Chairman
J.M. Kennedy	-	Vice-Chairman

Campus/Centre liaison Board members were named as well; ours is J. Baker, who has served on the College Council/Board for a number of years and was elected a Vancouver School Board trustee in December.

2. In regular session on Wednesday, March 14th, the College Board discussed, among others, the following matters:

- a) The College Principal's report included a variety of items; a copy of the report has been placed in our library.
- b) In response to a draft proposal from the Management Advisory Council respecting the establishment of criteria for the setting of priorities for capital projects, the Board approved for submission to M.A.C. its own criteria, with the hope and expectation that the M.A.C. document will be appropriately modified.

Also, as requested by M.A.C., the Board set priorities for our own capital proposal; these, too, will be submitted to the Management Advisory Council.

- c) The by-laws, approved some time ago by the College Council for implementation after the College was so designated by the Minister, were amended respecting tuition fees and then approved by the Board for submission to the Minister. The by-laws require the Minister's approval before they can finally be adopted by the Board.
 - d) A variety of RACs (V.V.I. and C.E.) and a Special Project for Japanese students (C.E.) were approved.
3. Background material respecting the foregoing, as well as minutes of the previous two meetings have been placed in our library for the perusal of those interested.

4) WANTED!

Does anyone have, or know the whereabouts, of a used child's record player? All that we really require is that the turntable rotate at different speeds - it isn't necessary that the speakers be in working order, nor that there be an arm, needle, cover, etc. Please contact Elizabeth MacLeod of the Mathematics Department if you have a suitable turntable to donate to a worthy cause.

10) FRACTURED ENGLISH (a reprint from American Way):

Englisch as She Is Goodly Spoken*

It's tough trying to communicate in the language of all those tourists

Condensed from AMERICAN WAY
NINO LO BELLO

FRACTURED English is the name of the game. It's fun to play, and all you have to do is travel with notebook at the ready. Here's a sampling from my own collection, beginning with a notice in a Zurich hotel:

Because of the impropriety of entertaining guests of the opposite sex in the bedroom, it is suggested that the lobby be used for this purpose.

A doctor in Rome advertises: "Specialist in Women and Other Diseases."

Even the British muff one occasionally, as in a hospital sign in London: Visitors. Two to a Bed and Half-an-Hour Only. Or this linguistic lapse: Our Establishment Serves Tea in a Bag Like Mother.

One hotel in France, seeking to discourage tourists from wearing slacks in its plush dining room, informs men that "A sports jacket may be worn to dinner but no trousers."

Then there is a dentist in Istanbul whose doorway proclaims: American Dentist, 2th Floor — Teeth Extracted by Latest Methodists. At least he picked the right floor.

Rome again, in a shop window: Dresses for Street Walking.

I found the slickest store sign in Rome on the fashionable Via Condotti, not far from the Spanish Steps: Our Dresses Avertise in Harp's Bazar. Apprised of the fluff, the store owner smiled and said: "Amico, that sign brings in business. Every day a dozen women come in to tell me about the mistake. And you know what? About half of them end up buying."

The how-to-say-it-in-English problem extends to communist nations seeking tourists. In Belgrade's state-owned skyscraper hotel, the Slavija, I found these elevator instructions: Push button of wishing floor. If the cabin should enter more persons, each one should press number of wishing floor. Driving is then going alphabetically by natural order.

On the door of my room in the same hotel: Let Us Know About Any Unficiency As Well As Leaking On The Service. Our Utmost Will Improve.

This was in the office of Cedok, Czechoslovakia's state travel agency: Take One Of Our Horse-Driven City Tours — We Guarantee No Miscarriages.

On a Soviet ship in the Black Sea, I found these lifesaving instructions on my cabin door: Help savering apparata in emergings behold many whistles! Associate the stringing apparata about the bosoms and meet behind. Flee then to the indifferent lifesaving shippen obediencing the instructs of the vessel chef.

And on the elevator door in a Rumanian hotel lobby, my all-time favorite: The lifts is being fixed for the next days. During that time we regret that you will be unbearable.

* From a sign in Holland advertising a Dutch-English grammar.
