WELCOME BACK!

Traditionally, September 1st is the beginning of the school year and, although ours is a year-'round operation, things do seem to get into full swing again at K.E.C. in September after four months of somewhat reduced enrolment. To all those who've been on vacation - welcome back. And to all members of faculty, staff and administration, whether you've been on vacation or not - have a good fall term.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Our congratulations to Donna McGee and Cheryl Jibodh, who have just returned from Illinois where they had been invited to give a 5 day E.S.L. literacy workshop sponsored by the E.S.L./Bilingual State Service Centre. The topics they discussed were literacy definition, testing for literacy, needs assessment, curriculum, literacy techniques and material development. The registrants were a mixture of administrators and instructors, and materials developed in the workshop will be made available to literacy students in the state. This is the second workshop the Service Centre has asked Donna and Cheryl to do; materials and the approach to testing suggested last year are now in use throughout the States.

To the office staff, who were so
Helpful to me these last 14 months;
Always cheerful, always patient
No matter how hectic the pace;
Keen in wit and work and ideas;

You made it all more easy and fun; to
One and all ---

The Reading Teacher's Lament

I tried teaching my students sequencing skills, but I couldn't keep them in order.

I tried teaching word configuration, but my lesson never took shape.

I tried teaching my students a lesson using the kinesthetic approach, but they wouldn't touch it.

I tried a strong phonics approach, but I found that wasn't too sound.

I wanted to teach my students vocabulary, but I never found the words to do it.

I tried using a semantic approach to comprehension, but my students never caught my meaning.

I did well in teaching palindromes because I knew them backwards and forwards.

You wouldn't believe my unit on fantasy!

I tried teaching about vowels, but my students never got the long nor the short of it.

I tried to teach about syllables, but they broke up the lesson.

I tried working on predicting outcomes, but they only guessed at the answers.

I tried teaching auditory discrimination, but they wouldn't hear of it.

So I became a mathematics teacher and my problems have really multiplied.
