CONFIDENTIAL STUDENT FEEDBACK

It is the College Board's policy that there be "confidential student feedback designed to assist each instructor in the improvement of instruction."

Please endeavour, with at least one class, during the next four months, to obtain feedback from your students as to their opinions concerning your effectiveness as an instructor and your instructional style.

Your department head will be pleased to assist you in setting up the operation of the feedback(s).

However, please remember that student feedback is CONFIDENTIAL. You are under no obligation to share its findings with anyone; but a more experienced instructor may be able to help with the interpretation.

Just for the record, please let your department head know when you have carried out "student feedback(s)."

STUDENT, COURSES AND INSTRUCTORS

Early in the term, it is the responsibility of each instructor to explain to students the substance of the course content and the style of instruction in which the course is to be offered.

Please help students by:

- (a) Summarizing the content of the course and describing the organization.
- (b) Describing your personal approach to instruction and students.
- (c) Clarifying your expectations of students and your methods of assessing their work.
- (d) Informing them of your office hours and other availabilities.
- (e) Explaining the grading system.

Your assistance in this matter will help to show students that the provision of a good learning environment is most important to us.

ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT PROGRESS

It is important that all students know how their work is being evaluated. If you are teaching a course, please assist all students by doing the following:

- (a) Assess their progress regularly in a manner clearly understandable by them.
- (b) Keep them continually informed of their progress.
- (c) Explain the grading system early in the term. Please note especially the last date for withdrawal and the reason for it.

Creative Writing ?!!(:)...

offered at KEC this Fall
by Wayne Decle

this is a non-credit course for:

people who want to increase their writing power,
their thinking power, and their creativity

students who are preparing for work or study where effective communication is important (where isn't it?)

people who want an environment where excellence will be stressed through practice of writing, group discussion and feedback

some topics which may appear:

writing to survive
creative love letters
writing and politics
brainstorming

writing as power
effective editing
writing to music
automatic writing

Wayne Decle has a B.A. in English from the University of British Columbia, specializing in Canadian literature, and has completed the 5th year secondary teaching program in the Faculty of Education at UBC. He has pursued post-graduate courses in creative writing at UBC. Wayne has been a very popular instructor of English, Canadian Viewpoints and Writing Skills at KEC.

THEY PLAYED BALL!!

Two softball teams from V.C.C. made it to the Vancouver Municipal and Regional Employees Union Softball League finals. They took first and second place in a double knockout tournament on August 22 and 23. With seven teams playing in the tournament, King Edward Campus' 'Out To Lunch Bunch' won three games straight to put them into the final match. Langara Softballers had one loss and came back with two straight wins to challenge K.E.C. for the championship.

In the bottom of the sixth inning, with the score 6-3 for K.E.C., Langara came back to tie it up at 6-6 in the top of the seventh. With one runner on base and two pitches on the second batter, a throw to second base, to prevent K.E.C.'s runner from advancing to second, gave the runner a chance to come home and win the game with a score of 7-6 for K.E.C.

It was good calibre ball right throughout and a close game, considering that, on August 20, Langara beat K.E.C. 20-2 in a regular season game. K.E.C.'s team captain, Steve Baker, commented, "It's nice that K.E.C. finally is first over Langara."

EXCHANGE, ANYONE?

An English teacher at St. Lawrence College, Kingston, Ontario is interested in a one year exchange with an English instructor at our College. The instructor is also interested in exchanging his home. His teaching load of 20 hours per week concentrates on English for Technical students, but can vary according to the wishes of our faculty member.

Details are posted on faculty bulletin boards and the instructor would like the exchange to start September 1982.

LIBRARY FILMS

TUESDAY AT 11:45 a.m. - BRING A FRIEND - BRING YOUR LUNCH

TWENTY MILLION PEOPLE

Through music, verse, dance and vintage photographs, the cultural diversity of the Canadian population is shown, along with a history of Canada from colony to Confederation.

HOLD THE KETCHUP

Canadians have the good fortune of being exposed to the culinary arts of the many cultures that have migrated here. The foods mentioned in this film include Japanese sushi, Greek pastito, French rabbit stew, German strudel, Hungarian rakott kaposzta, and Jewish challas. Shown are the shops where the ingredients are stocked and some of the cooks who prepare these foods.

USE/ABUSE OF THE PHOTOCOPIER IN MAIN OFFICE

Because of the concern over the abuse of the copier in the Main Office, the copier will be locked every evening at 7:30 p.m. in an effort to reduce the amount of copying taking place. The duplicating facility on campus is able to take care of much of the copying.

If this effort does not reduce the excessive use of the machine, the removal of the copier from the office will be considered.

WELCOME BACK!

Traditionally, September 1st is considered to be the start of the academic year, a time when instructors return to their classes refreshed, full of new ideas, enthusiasm, raring to go.

So to all of you who are returning, welcome back. To those who are joining us, a most sincere welcome. To those who laboured through a long hot summer, thank you. (As evidence of our year round operation, King Edward Campus student enrollment on 1981 May 31 was 5,944.)

Under both budget and space constraints, I am confident that you will all continue to provide those quality learning experiences for our students for which King Edward Campus is renowned. Remember that, in little more than a year's time, we should be in our brand new campus.

R.F.C.

WELCOME!

It is our pleasure to welcome the following new instructors on campus this fall. I know that all faculty join us in wishing them a pleasant and successful term of instruction.

Ajello, Peter - Reading and Study Skills
Lydiard, Joyce- ASSED - Visually Impaired
Wallace, David - Basic Education
