NEWS FROM THE BOOKSTORE

USED BOOK BUY-BACK

The Bookstore is taking the initial step towards establishing a used book service for KEC students. I have arranged for a used-book broker to conduct a buy-back from the students on August 27, 1984 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

He will pay cash directly to the students. This will eliminate the problems that were experienced with the Student Councils in the past, in holding books on consignment. It would be appreciated if the instructors could remind the students of this event. Please inform them it is one day only, and the Bookstore will not be buying any used books from students. The used books we obtain will be bought through the broker.

This point is important! I have determined quantities for the broker to buy on our behalf. He will fulfill our requirements first and will pay 50% of the current list price. After our requirements are complete, he will buy remaining books at the current wholesale price. His prices may be somewhat lower than ours, depending on the wholesale market value of each text. Therefore, the sooner students bring in their books on Monday, the better their chances will be of getting top dollar for their books.

Staff, faculty and departments may all take part in this buy-back. The broker is interested in any current textbook, regardless of where it is used.

Departments may take advantage by selling any class set books they are not using. Similarly, instructors may have received promotional copies of books they do not wish to keep. It may be a good time to peruse your book collections to determine which are expendable.

All other staff members with books to sell are welcome. Remember, they must be current editions. Please also note:

PAPERBACKS AND GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED.

CLOTHING

Recently received are new styles of contemporary ladies tops. There are T-shirts featuring a variety of abstract designs ($7.99) and sleeveless, partly mesh tops ($9.99) in attractive colours. These fashionable items are worth checking out.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL

We have published a flyer featuring some of our Back-to-School specials. Remember when shopping for yourself or your children, that we offer an additional 10% discount to staff off of the special prices. Flyers will be available at Admissions and will be posted throughout the Campus.
