INTERESTED IN MICROCOMPUTERS?

For faculty interested in purchasing a microcomputer, there are several interesting deals available. I understand that UBC is selling Apple Macs at a good price. As well both Tandy and Commodore are offering new pricing discounts for faculty.

At VCC we recently negotiated an arrangement with Zenith for a bulk purchase of the Zenith 150 microcomputer. This is an IBM PC compatible. If you are interested in acquiring one, please contact Jim Goard at the computing centre at Langara. A system with 256KB memory and two disk drives and without a printer or software will cost you about $2800, including PST.
