CONDOLENCES

Condolences go from the ELS Department to Cecily May and her family on the death of her father last Friday.

Pat Kennedy

Recently, students have reported books taken from classrooms while they were away at coffee breaks. In alerting your students to this situation, you may want to ask one or two students to act as classroom monitors during breaks. We hope that monitors will serve as a deterrent to in-class theft of property. Thank you.

Last Friday's draw came up with two repeat winners: Lila MacFadden from the VVI Switchboard and Cary Wong from Langara Duplicating. Their lucky numbers were 136 and 130 respectively.

Last chance for raffle tickets for a new $10,000 Baby Grand Piano!

The draw is this Saturday and under a 1000 tickets have been sold. The odds are fantastic. Don't miss out on an excellent chance. Tickets are only $5.00. All proceeds go to scholarships for VCC Music students. Buy your tickets at Security, 2nd Floor; Music Department, 3rd Floor or Foundation Office, 5th Floor.

Thanks to all the Music students who participated in selling tickets at Granville Market, Oakridge and Lansdowne and special thanks to some of the organizers: Karine Breslauer, Katherine Cambridge and Sherry Dance. Also special mention to faculty members, Margot Ehling and Jerry Domer.

THE GLOBAL PICTURE

Both National Geographic (December 1988) and Time (January 1989) dramatically featured our imperiled earth. One of the 1989 goals of the ABE Science Department is to heighten our students' awareness to some of the dangerous realities facing our future and to demonstrate how understanding some concepts of science can lead to specific solutions. Care to join us in your discipline? Topics are suitable for ESL, Law, Math, Economics, history, reading, writing, study skills, library use...even test-taking practice, ...at least. An edited outline about our endangered earth (mostly from Time's Planet of the Year issue) is available from me.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT LIBRARY

Many people are unaware that we have a well-stocked Professional Development Library on the second floor (Level 3) of the Library. This Library is for instructors and staff and consists of a wide range of materials on most aspects of teaching. There are, naturally, many books on teaching English as a Second Language, but the PD Library is far more than just that! A notable part of the collection deals with the educational philosophy and techniques of most of the disciplines represented at King Edward Campus.

We have a wide range of other materials, too. For example, we have papers from ESL and other educational workshops, PD activities, college reports, curricula and the latest governmental directives and developments in education. In fact, whatever your subject or professional concern, the PD Library is sure to contain something to interest you. You are most welcome to come in and see just what we have in the collection and, of course, you can check it out in exactly the same way as anything else in the Library.

DOMCO FOODSERVICES NEW YEAR'S UPDATE

Firstly, due to the large number of KEC staff, faculty and administrators who utilize our catering service, it has become necessary to implement a standard procedure when requesting catering.

In order for Domco Foodservices to provide prompt and efficient service, it would be most appreciated if all catering requests be done in one of two ways:

1. Catering Request Forms - Request forms can be either be sent directly to the cafeteria or placed in Domco's mailbox located on the fourth floor.
2. Telephone Requests - to which a catering confirmation form would follow; e.g. emergency catered functions.

This procedure will ensure that all information is correct, therefore, minimizing error both upon delivery and in the month end billing. In addition, adequate notice for catering would be most appreciated for it allows us time to provide you with Domco Foodservices high Quality Service Standard that we must strictly enforce. I know this is not always possible, but your cooperation is welcome.

Most staff, faculty and administrators should have received the memo regarding the new catering procedure. However, I felt it was necessary to present this request once again for those who may not be aware of this change. I realize that new procedures, like this one, can take time to get accustomed to, however, your cooperation regarding this issue would be most appreciated in order that Domco Foodservices may provide you with its high quality service.

Secondly, due to my ongoing concern regarding employees implementing proper Food Safety techniques and using appropriate sanitational procedures, I feel it is necessary that ALL Domco Foodservices staff participate in the City of Vancouver's Health Department's Food Handlers Course. Therefore, I have set up with Mrs. Green, this Food Handlers program to begin the second week of February.

It is Domco Foodservices' Policy that we continuously and consistently maintain and enforce the highest standards of food safety and employee sanitation. In order for us to enforce these standards religiously, all employees and employers must have a common understanding of proper food handling procedures. Thus, was my reasoning for requesting my staff's participation in this program.

"Never trade peanut butter for knuckle."

Finally, thanks to your assistance, KEC Cafeteria's First Caring Spirit Event - Back to School Kickoff - has been a great success. It has been quite amusing observing both staff and students' various methods of determining the number of Jelly Beans in the Jar. I think most individuals will be quite amazed when they learn how many Jelly Beans there actually are. This promotion will continue until 1989 January 30, so there is still time to enter your guess. I sincerely thank you all for your continuous support.

MARVIN REIGER

Congratulations to Music Faculty member, Marvin Reiger, who has been invited to participate next week in a vocal and choral workshop with the renowned conductor, Helmut Rilling, in a performance of Mendelssohn's Elijah with the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra.

Marvin has also been selected as one of the conductors to work with Maestro Rilling in his select conducting master class, and has been invited for a private coaching session with noted Canadian Tenor, Dr. John Martens.

Marvin's participation in this workshop will result in his being invited to sing in a performance in June of Beethoven's Missa Solemnis under the direction of the great American conductor, Robert Shaw.

In addition to teaching voice and popular voice master class in the Music Department, Marvin was for several years a member of the Vancouver Chamber Choir, has directed and performed in many musical theatre productions, appears as a soloist frequently in the Lower Mainland, and is regularly heard on the stage in Vancouver Opera Association productions.
