NOTICE FROM THE CAFETERIA ADVISORY COMMITTEE

DOMCO works hard to supply good food at low prices. To cost out offerings, every item is measured.

Those who bring their own large coffee cups will appreciate they are receiving extra. Therefore, there will be a minimum charge of 55¢ on large cups, and designer coffees will be charged correspondingly more.

Shirley Girvan

ABSENCE

I will be absent from the Campus from June 12-16. Please contact either Doreen Sharan or Shirley Girvan for help or urgent matters.

SEN'KLIP NATIVE THEATRE COMPANY
AND
STO:LO TRIBAL COUNCIL
PRESENT

SHADOW WARRIOR

Sen'klip Native Theatre company is the Okanagan Valley's newest and only Native Theatre Organisation. Along with Sto:lo Tribal Council, Sen'klip is proud to present its upcoming production of 'SHADOW WARRIOR.'

'SHADOW WARRIOR' is written and directed by Native Playwright/Director Sadie Worn Staff.

'SHADOW WARRIOR' deals with the 'shame and pride' shadows within each of us that cause many to seek hiding places. 'SHADOW WARRIOR' focuses on the difficult issue of substance abuse among Indian Nations; but mostly 'SHADOW WARRIOR' is an honest reflection of the growing strength of a people in the face of a diminishing enemy.

'SHADOW WARRIOR' is the story of Buck Skinner, a well educated, handsome, young man who remains a driven mystery of moods, inner and outward battles, to his friends. Buck travels one of the most dangerous and destructive roads any human can venture down. The trail of alcohol deception to oblivion is a great distance from the path of Indian pride and honour. Buck's desperations, dreams are embodied in the strengths and free flight of the wild stallion.

BAYLIS OPUS

Jonathan Baylis, a former ESL instructor at KEC, has deposited a copy of his Master of Education thesis in the Library. This work is titled "What do ESL Students Want? A Technique for Measuring Felt Needs for Curriculum Topics". It has just been catalogued and will find a home in the Professional Development Library on the second floor of the Library (level 3). You are welcome, of course, to check it out.

EDITOR'S NOTES
April 1969

CITIZENRY INFLUENCE

The May portion this month was carefully selected by the two writers and Garynne Chandler. I have tried to make a useful selection of material drawn into the spotlight by your editorial staff in the process of learning a lesson that I am sure as well as information which may help students learn about some of the best ways to become active participants in Canadian society.

TEACHERS' NOTES
April 1969

BREAK OUT - JOHN 11 - BE PROUD

- One must be more selective in your classroom. You can obtain an election list by writing to Elections Canada, 140 Carleton Road, Ottawa, Canada K1A 0P6.
- What is a Canadian? Translators note: Have one person enter. Ask all your class. Discuss what it is that makes Canadians unique. List 10 Canadian characteristics.
- Oceans & Canadian river networks that both make special contributions towards Canada. For example: Calgary, Vancouver, Quebec, Winnipeg, Montreal, Vancouver and Toronto.
- Mexico is a democratic country. How can students learn more about election, first the role of the person of the vote in Canada, and then how our best school learning a Canadian.
- Many Canadians volunteer their time and are happy in the same industry, sport or volunteer to give and find the most about our best work.

THE WESTCOAST READER receives a fixed amount of money each year to publish eight issues of the newspaper. The amount we receive does not allow us to develop and print supplements, buy much-needed computer equipment, expand our readership or develop supplementary materials for teachers. We want to continue to grow and improve. We need your help to do so.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

- Ask your school, college or agency to help support this important teaching material.
- Get together with your colleagues and make a joint contribution.

Yes! I want to help THE WESTCOAST READER.

TO MY FRIENDS AT KEC

Thank you to all of you who came to say farewell and wish me "Good Luck" in my new position at last week's farewell gathering. Thank you for all the cards, the KEC pen holder (it matches my desk at home exactly) and the beautiful crystal vase. The vase looks just great on my dining room table (of course, with fresh flowers).

Any time any of you are at Langara, please come and say "Hi" to me in the General Office, 2nd floor.

Thanks again!

CHAIRMAN AT C.V.A. CONFERENCE

A reminder that I will be off campus for the period June 12th to 16th attending the 1989 Canadian Vocational Association national conference, in Toronto. This annual conference, hosted this year by George Brown College, is the major gathering of vocational educators, administrators, industry and government representatives from across Canada. The theme of this year's conference is "Renewing Canada's Skill Base".

THANK YOU!

THE THIRD ANNUAL HEALTH FAIR WAS A SUCCESS!

"TO HEALTH WITH YOU"

The Joint Central Administration, Continuing Education, and King Edward Campus Health and Safety Committee would like to thank all those persons who attended this year's fair and especially those who helped to make it such an outstanding event.

HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

I have met many users of WordPerfect who are very good at many of the standard uses of the software, yet for some reason have never ventured into the world of macros. The next few WordPerfect Corners will be devoted to macros, as they represent a very powerful tool for complex tasks that have to be repeated. If you have a task that should exist as a macro, write to PHANTOM for help. Eventually, Human Resources will make available a disk containing a complete library of macros!

A macro (short for macroinstruction) may be thought of as a storage file that stores commands and/or text. This means that any sequence of keys or instructions may be stored in a macro then replayed at will by calling up the macro by name.

Creating Macros

To create (define) a macro, use CTRL+F10 (Macro Def). Then give your macro a simple name, e.g. GRADES and then press <ENTER>. You will be prompted for a description of your macro, then press <ENTER> again. WordPerfect will store this macro file as GRADE.WPM. A lower left prompt will then flash Macro Def, until you turn off the macro definition with CTRL+F10. During this time all your keystrokes (including errors!) are being "remembered" and stored in the macro.

Invoking Macros

To execute your macro, it is called by pressing ALT+F10 (MACRO) and then typing its name.

Example

Store your typical ending to letters in a macro, e.g.

Yours cordially,

Sylvia Plath,
Business Administration Department

How To:

1. press CTRL+F10, then provide a name for the macro, e.g. ENDING
2. provide a description of the macro
3. press F4 to indent, then type Yours cordially etc
4. press CTRL+F10 to turn off macro definition.
5. type a short letter and finish your letter by calling your macro: ALT+F10, ENDING This should cause your ending to be inserted.

Next time, we will include some more complex macros that do very useful tasks. Do drop us a line or give a call, if you find WordPerfect Corner to be useful.

SHU-TE SCHOOL MUSICAL PERFORMANCE

On behalf of International Education, I would like to extend my thanks to the colleagues who have made the Taiwanese variety show possible:

- Jerry Domer for his support and the arrangements made by the Music Department;
- Alice Wong for successfully coordinating the whole event;
- Noreen Green, Nadine Johnson and their students for arranging the decorations, preparing the dessert and ushering; and,
- the students, faculty and administrators for giving their support by attending the show on May 29, 1989.

I think that the event helped us to get a better understanding of Taiwanese culture and look forward to other international culture events in the future.
