I am pleased to announce that June Dragman has accepted the offer of appointment as Assistant Department Head - ESL Outreach Department. She will begin work in her new position July 17, 1989.

June holds a Diploma in Adult Education and a Master in Library Science. She has become an expert on materials and curriculum for ESL students through her five-year tenure as TEAL Librarian. One of the major tasks she has undertaken is the completion of the annotated bibliography for the Federal-Provincial Textbook Agreement Booklist.

MORE KUDOS

Eloah Giacomelli of the ELS Department has received another glowing review for her translation of the work of Brazilian author Moacyr Scliar. The New York Times, in a recent review of Scliar's collection of short stories, said, "The rhythmic prose of The Enigmatic Eye has been beautifully translated by Eloah F. Giacomelli, who manages to make Mr. Scliar's voice speak eloquently to us in English."
