VCC PRESS ROLLING ALONG

Last year was a good year, and busy one, for VCC Press. The 1991-92 Annual Report indicates a 63 percent increase in revenues from booksales (to $54,000) over the previous year. Contract revenues for publishing services neared the $50,000 mark.

During the year, three new books were added to the Press title list, including an ESL video/workbook package entitled What Do People Really Say?, developed by KEC instructors Nina Kozakiewicz and Helen Cunningham. As well, the best-selling College Style Sheet, by Langara's Jon Furberg and Richard Hopkins, was completely overhauled in a new Third Edition. A national promotion of this title has led to the Style Sheet being available in college and university bookstores from St. John's, Newfoundland to Victoria, B.C. Foreign rights to the Professional Bakers' Manual, developed at City Centre, were sold to Prentice-Hall, which plans to produce a new edition for world-wide marketing. The second annual edition of the B.C. Transfer Guide and two editions of the 600-page Advanced Education Media Acquisition Centre's video catalogue were also produced under the supervision of managing editor Raymond Bendall.

Copies of the VCC Press Annual Report for 1991-92 are currently on reserve at VCC campus libraries, or may be requested through inter-office mail from the VCC Press office, at Langara.

FAREWELL TO MARGARET JAMESON

The Business & Computer Studies Department recently hosted a cycling party to honour retiree Margaret Jameson. Six ABE'ers went the distance with Margaret—22 Km along the Richmond dike. Those six fit, hearty, and healthy cyclers: Frank & Pat Fornelli, Anne McElroy, Nadia Kawas, Lorne Malo, and Ron Meyer. The less-fit, casual cyclists joined the group at Checkpoint #2 for a 14 Km ride; non-cyclers joined at Checkpoint #3 for a 3 Km stroll along the dike; and the not-at-all-fit met us at Checkpoint #4, Dave's Fish & Chips, for lunch.

A good time was had by all, and we wish Margaret the very best in her retirement.

Cathy Tolsma
