TO EVERYONE AT KEC

I find myself in a position of having to thank you all once again. I really did not think there was any more you could possibly do for me but, of course, I was wrong. The honour you bestowed on me September 30th was the very nicest thing that could happen to anyone. I am sorry I could not talk but if I had tried, I would have made an entire fool of myself. I was so pleased to see all of you and even some retirees, which really pleased me. Although I never really worked for the campus, every company I worked for knew that my loyalty was really with the College. You have filled me with so much pride any yet I feel so very humble.

Thank you all and I miss you. There is a real void in my life.

Love and all the best to every one of you.

LINEUPS IN THE LIBRARY

We are aware that library patrons are experiencing longer lineups when waiting for service than in the past. We also see daily students (and faculty) leaving the library before we are able to assist you at the reference desk, circulation counter or media booking desk.

We have just tallied our statistics for the month of September and realize that although we have reduced our hours by 16%, and have lost about 20% of our staff and librarians, the usage of the library is similar to that of last September. Usage of the library has just been compressed into fewer hours, with fewer library personnel to assist you.

So we ask for your patience and understanding.

INSTRUCTIONAL SKILLS WORKSHOPS AT VCC BY JEAN COCKELL

The Instructional Skills Workshops (ISW) is an excellent professional development activity for anyone who takes an active role in the instruction of students. Working with a small group of colleagues, each participant designs and instructs mini-lesson which are video taped. Colleagues who have been trained as facilitators guide constructive feedback. The result is positively enhanced awareness of how to teach and learn. It is an opportunity to share ideas about teaching and learning with others in a non-judgemental framework.

Two successful Instruction Skills Workshops (ISWs) were held at VCC this past May. Participants included instructors, librarians, and instructional assistants from Langara and King Edward Campus. The four trained facilitators were instructors from Langara, King Edward Campus and UBC. The organizers from King Edward Campus and City Centre Campus were supported by the VCC Human Resource Development Department.

The feedback from the participants indicates that it was an excellent learning experience. The team building and sharing that occurred among people from various levels and areas of instructional experience was very valuable. The supportive atmosphere in the small groups made it possible for people to take risks in trying new instructional ideas.

For those who missed this opportunity for great professional development the next set of Instructional Skills Workshops will be held February 8 to 11, 1994. Watch for the call for registration through Human Resource Development which will come out in November.

Post-secondary Application Service of British Columbia

In August 1993, the Minister of Advanced Education, Training and Technology, the Honourable Tom Perry, announced that B.C. will have a central service for processing applications to B.C. post-secondary institutions, to be located in Kamloops.

This is to give you some information about the nature of this service and how it might affect you and your students. However, information is tentative at this time and very many details remain to be worked out.

This centre will offer a high level of service, be operated jointly by the institutions and be independent of government.

What will the Service do?

- It will accept a single application form from a student, who may apply to several institutions or programs at the same time, using this form (the maximum number of multiple applications will be limited, but that number has yet to be decided).
- It will publish a comprehensive booklet detailing all available post-secondary programs in the public institutions together with their admission requirements.
- It will collect secondary school grades on behalf of the post-secondary institutions.
- It will control the number of offers which a student may hold.
- It will assist applicants who have no admission offer to find available or vacant places.

What will the Service NOT do?

- It will not determine which institutions a student applies to or attends.
- It will not determine admissibility of students to any program - these decisions will remain within each individual institution.
- It will not set admission policies for any institution. These decisions will continue to be made by each individual institution.

Which post-secondary institutions will participate?

The following plan to participate:

- Four provincial universities: S.F.U., U.B.C., U.N.B.C., U.VIC;
- The Open Learning Agency, B.C.I.T., Emily Carr C.A.D.;
- Four university-colleges: Cariboo, Fraser Valley, Malaspina, Okanagan;
- Eleven colleges: Camosun, Capilano, Douglas, East Kootenay, Kwantlen, New Caledonia, North Island, Northern Lights, Northwest, Selkirk, Vancouver Community College.

Notice to B.C. school principals and counsellors

Which programs will be included in the Service?

Discussion is ongoing concerning program participation.

- Most post-secondary academic (bachelors' degrees and university transfer), career and vocational programs will be included.
- Post-graduate, medicine, dentistry, law, Adult Basic Education, Special Needs Education, and programs of less than six months duration will not be included in the Service.

Which students will be affected by the introduction of the Service?

- All applicants for September 1995 admission will be expected to apply through PAS BC.
- Students currently in Grade 11, applying to enter post-secondary programs in September 1995, are the first group of B.C. secondary school students who will use the Service.
- Applicants from other Canadian provinces, international students and mature students will also apply through PAS BC.

What differences will the secondary schools see?

- There will be only one form for applying to most programs in B.C.
- Application information will be published in one booklet.
- There will be greater consistency of deadlines and procedures.
- Grades need to be sent to one place only.
- There will be a single source of information on the application status of your students and on where your students finally enrolled.

Who will pay for this Service?

Applicants will pay an application fee, which is expected to cover the full cost of the service.

Future updates

At present, the Service is being established and further communications will be issued by the newly-appointed Director.

This communiqué is issued by the PAS BC Steering Committee on behalf of the Interim Board for the information of all secondary schools in British Columbia.

Mountain West Canadian Studies Conference

February 17 - 20, 1994

Alternative Frontiers

Simon Fraser University
at Harbour Centre
515 West Hastings Street
Vancouver, British Columbia

Supported by
Simon Fraser University
Association for Canadian Studies
Canadian Studies Directorate of the Department of the Secretary of State of Canada

INVITATION

*Is there a Canadian way to think about Canada?
There are many ways to think about Canada.*

In this answer lies the conviction of this conference which is devoted to exploring Alternative Frontiers of Canadian thought, understanding, and life. We invite you to come to present your ideas and research and to engage in discussions with colleagues whose interests are in Canadian scholarship.

Simon Fraser University's Centre for Canadian Studies was founded just over twenty years ago, in the first flush of the realization that "To Know Ourselves" as Canadians is a matter of high academic priority.

Interest in Canadian Studies has increased over the years, within Canada and abroad. Recent conferences have explored the place of Canadian Studies in scholarly thought and academic settings. We hope that this conference devoted to the theme Alternative Frontiers will be the occasion when scholars will come together to explore the various frontiers of our Canadian experience.

CONFERENCE INFORMATION

The conference begins with registration and a reception on Thursday evening, February 17 and ends on Saturday afternoon. Post conference field trips are being planned for Sunday, February 20. Recreational options will also be offered.

The conference features sessions with contributed papers and panel discussions and will include opportunities for discussions in smaller groups. Students interested in Canadian Studies are encouraged to attend.

CALL FOR PAPERS Submission guidelines

Prospective presenters are invited to submit abstracts for papers in subject areas of Canadian Studies. Proposals for complete sessions or panels on particular topics will be considered as well as proposals for individual papers.

Each proposal must contain the following

- abstract of paper
- title of presentation
- name and titles of author(s)
- biographical note (50 words or less)
- name, address, telephone, fax numbers of person to be contacted
- special requirements for presentation

Presenter's guidelines

The deadline for submission of proposals and abstracts is November 1, 1993

The program committee will notify speakers of the acceptance of papers no later than December 1.

Conference presenters must register for the conference and pay the registration fee.

Send proposals and abstracts to
Mountain West Canadian Studies Conference
Continuing Studies
Simon Fraser University at Harbour Centre
515 West Hastings Street
Vancouver, BC V6B 5K3 Fax (604) 291-5098

Presentation formats

Papers

These are thirty minutes in length including audience discussion, which generally limits formal presentations to twenty minutes. Papers will be grouped with two others in a ninety minute session. Following the conference, authors will be encouraged to submit their papers for a refereed proceedings.

Panels

Suggestions for panels or special presentations are encouraged. Please present a proposal to the program committee.

CONFERENCE SITE

Located in Vancouver's historic Spencer Building, Simon Fraser University at Harbour Centre is a stunning state-of-the-art facility in the heart of the city. It overlooks the harbour at the point of Vancouver's origin, and lies directly opposite the heritage CPR station. This is now the hub of regional transportation for the Seabus ferry to the north shore, the Sealink catamaran to Victoria and Nanaimo, and the SkyTrain to New Westminster and Surrey.

PRE AND POST CONFERENCE ACTIVITIES

Whistler has been rated as North American's number one winter resort. Pre and post conference ski packages will be available. Post conference field trips are being planned.

ACCOMMODATION

A block booking has been made at the elegant Delta Place Hotel, located in the heart of downtown Vancouver and a five minute walk from Simon Fraser University. The third floor of the hotel is devoted to an extensive health club featuring racquetball and squash courts, swimming pool and exercise room. In order to qualify for the special conference rates of $79.00 single and $99.00 double, delegates must identify the conference when booking. Delegates are responsible for making their own hotel reservations and we would recommend early registration. The accommodation deadline date is February 1.
