EQUIPMENT DONATIONS TO THE ELECTRICAL DEPARTMENT

Recently, the electrical industry in Vancouver has supported our Electrical Department through some major donations of equipment and technical support. The equipment includes a marine switchboard, valued at $18,000 from Genstar Shipyard, North Vancouver, Control Equipment ($30,000) from Eecol Electric and most recently the "Advisor" Computer Graphics System from Dynapro Systems Inc. ($58,000)

These donations have been gratefully received and should be in operation very shortly.

STUDENT LOAN APPEALS COMMITTEE

Dana Fister, Financial Aid Advisor, is one of the representatives on the 1986/87 provincial Student Loan Appeals Committee. The first meeting was held in October at the Emily Carr College of Art. There is a strong indication that many of this year's appeals will be concerned with expected parental contributions in cases of dependant applicants and the assessment of assets (liquid and fixed) of all applicants, but in particular of mature students. The next meeting is to be held at V.V.I.

In mid-September, the Ministry arranged for Mr. John Whitehouse, the Director of the Canadian branch of the International Labour Office, to address post-secondary institutions in British Columbia on the opportunities and procedures for providing consultants for ILO projects. These positions frequently provide base salaries of $40,000 U.S. with tax benefits, housing and transportation allowances. Consequently, they may be of interest to some staff for professional development opportunities as well as provide an opportunity for the VCC to strengthen ties with other countries.

The International Labour Office in Ottawa has indicated its preference in using the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education as a mechanism for distributing information on projects to interested parties in British Columbia. The Ministry will be forwarding to VCC on a regular basis the ILO quarterly report outlining the list of vacancies in technical cooperation projects.

- Interested staff should submit a copy of a "Personal History Form" (Dale Jones has copies) to:

★ ★ ★ JUNK FOOD LUNCH EXTRAVAGANZA UPDATE ★ ★ ★

VVI's first Junk Food Lunch Extravaganza was a rousing success but only because of the generous donation of hands, help and labour on the part of many departments and many people. The lunch was set to go at 10:30 and by 1:30 every tin of Jolt had been snapped up. The recently returned Building Construction Department were just dazzling at the Candy Floss machine and came up with a sure fire sales hook, kisses sold on the side for $50, proceeds of course to the United Way. How could any one resist such a deal! We tactfully refrained from asking for an itemized account of their total take.

Special thanks go out to each of the departments who manned the booths, Hot Dogs - Electrical, Ice Cream - Building Services Worker, Red Hot Tacos & Popcorn - Business, and the Student Association - tickets. Who could miss the stunning Hairdressing Department as they beat off customers with curling irons! It was hot and heavy going for the soft drinks. Dottie Dudley of Dental did the delightful design of the signs and the excellent music played by the Sultan of Swing himself, Roy Wren was thoughtfully provided from the personal collection of Lauchlin "Lauch" McKenzie of IMS. Not to forget the people who made it all work, Ed, the electrician for frozen instead of melted ice cream, Lou and Charles in Receiving who didn't bat an eye at a popcorn wagon and the Food Trades Department who were nearly driven over the edge keeping track of it all. Thanks to everyone who made it so much fun.

➤ NOTE: The aerobics classes are still open for those of you who valiantly sacrificed your diets!!! ◀

* THANK-YOU »« THANK-YOU *

So many people and departments have devoted time and effort to making this year's United Way Campaign a success that it would be difficult to name them all but a few do deserve honorable mention. Many thanks to the Printing Production department who went the extra distance in getting material out under impossible deadlines, to the Building and Grounds people who picked up and dropped off an assortment of equipment, the VCC Printing Centre who read minds and delivered on time. Most of all thanks to everyone of you, the Faculty, Staff and Student body that took us over the top and helped us reach our goal!

INSTRUCTOR'S DIPLOMA PROGRAM: INFORMATION UPDATE

As of September 1986, the Instructor's Diploma (I.D.) Program resides at Vancouver Community College and will be conducted by the faculty of the Program Development Department located at the Vancouver Vocational Institute campus.

1. Entry Criteria will remain the same as before; that is:

- a) B.C. Grade XII or equivalent, including proficiency in English language skills
- b) Currently employed as an instructor in the public or private sector
- c) Demonstrable competence in your teaching area
- d) Letter of reference from your employer

"Priority access" will be given to those needing to complete the I.D. Program to meet collective agreement or employment requirements.

2. Revisions to the I.D. Program effective April 01, 1987

- a) The I.D. Program course outlines and materials are being reviewed and, where necessary, revised and updated. The 180-hour program, formerly offered as four courses (i.e. two 30-hour courses and two 60-hour courses) will be offered after April 01, 1987 as six 30-hour 'modules'. That is:

Instructional and Curriculum Design	I.D. 101	30 hours	No change
Elements of Instruction	I.D. 102 Part A	30 hours	Divided into two parts
	I.D. 102 Part B	30 hours
Use and Design of Instructional Media	I.D. 103	30 hours	Reduced from 60 hours
Evaluation of Learning and Instruction	I.D. 104 Part A	30 hours	Increased 60 hours and offered in two parts.
	I.D. 104 Part B	30 hours

These changes have been approved by the Provincial Instructor's Diploma Program Steering Committee.

- b) Instructor's Diploma Program courses will be offered through distance education methods early in the 87-88 fiscal year. However, there will be a requirement (yet to be determined) for participation in at least one classroom or teaching lab activity.

3. Course Scheduling:

- a) The I.D. Program schedule of courses, dates, and locations will be published early in 1987. Courses in the I.D. program will be offered throughout B.C. at regular times after April 01, 1987.
- b) In the meantime, instructors may register for any of the equivalent courses in the VCC Instructor Training program. Until April 01, 1987, credit for successful completion of any of these courses will be transferred to the related I.D. program courses. These Instructor Training courses are regularly offered (see attached schedule). See "Registration Procedures" below.
- c. After April 01, 1987, instructors wishing to complete the I.D. program will register only in I.D. Program courses.

4. Transfer of Credit to the I.D. Program:

- a) Credit may be obtained for up to 50% of the Instructor's Diploma program for courses taken in teacher training from recognized educational institutions.
To obtain credit or to obtain a current status of your qualifications with regard to the I.D. Program, send photocopies of all relevant information to the Department Head, Program Development Department at VCC/VVI.

5. Registration Procedures:

- a) Those instructors who wish to register for courses in the Instructor Training program in order to transfer this credit to the I.D. Program, may contact the Student Registration Department either in person or by telephone to complete registration procedures (681 8111 local 211).

For other information, please call the Program Development Department at VVI toll free: 1 - 800 - 688 - 0096.

THE VANCOUVER COMMUNITY COLLEGE PRESS

Concept

Vancouver Community College is brimming with authors, both existing and potential as is evidenced by books already on the market as well as material that is being passed from hand to hand. The concept of a Vancouver Community College Press, then, originated some months ago by the President, Paul Gallagher, in the form of a question to College Staff: Should there be a VCC Press? To explore the questions more thoroughly, an ad hoc committee with representation from all centres was formed. Instructors and other staff were surveyed and all indicated an extremely strong interest in the idea.

Formation

As a result of that interest and, after examination of the fiscal implications, the committee recommended and the President accepted, the concept that the Vancouver Community College Press would be established. It would undertake a publishing program which would be low risk financially and within the capability of the College to undertake with a minimum of resources.

Progress to Date

Three publications have been selected for initial consideration:

- The College Style Sheet which had been published by the English Department, Langara Campus, through several editions;
- A baking manual which the Ministry of Labour, Apprenticeship and Employment Training Programs Branch indicated it would like to have VCC publish;
- Let's Get On With the Job, a job search instructional guide developed by two KEC instructors which seemed to offer some opportunity for joint publications with a commercial publisher.

These projects are now under way and at various stages. The College Style Sheet has been published in a revised edition of 10,000 copies. The market is firm inside and outside the College. The baking manual production is under way and a publications date is set for late December, 1986. The third, the job search manual is being considered for translation into French and is at an early stage of consideration.

Some additional projects are emerging for future publication.

VCC PRESS - PROGRESS

Goals and Functions

Working goals and functions have been developed for the Press. These take into consideration the fact that instructors on all campuses are developing materials that are publishable and, in fact, have been published. They also take into consideration the fact that the instructors of the College understand the information needs of college students in all their diversity. The Vancouver Community College Press would:

- encourage and facilitate the publication by VCC authors
- recognize the rights of authors who are employed as instructors at VCC
- act as a publisher, producing and marketing, college level material
- produce, market and distribute VCC publications on a cost-recovery and profit basis.
- return profits to publishing endeavours and to authors after recovering costs.
- arrange with other publishers the marketing and distribution of publications
- publicize the range and quality of VCC programs and instructional expertise through the publishing program

Guidelines for Authors

Working editorial policy is being developed. At this time the press is not "closed" to any project. Books, instructional games, pamphlets, distance education packages; any material at the community college level that has a potential market would be considered. However, resources to risk in such endeavours are limited so the following questions will enter into publishing decisions:

- is the item aimed at the community college market?
- are the standards of writing and instructional design high?
- is the material of direct instructional support?
- has the material been "field tested" in the classroom or shop?

VCC - PRESS - PROGRESS

Guidelines for Authors (contd.)

- is the author a VCC employee?
- is there a market within the College? Beyond the College? How strong?
- Would the material be of interest to the general public?
- can the material be better distributed through the College press than through a commercial publisher?
