BRIGHT LIGHTS AND ORNAMENTS

Over the years, people have found many ways of making their Christmas trees bloom with dazzling beauty.

Candles or lights, stand for the joy and light of Christmas.

Shiny paper hearts and cornucopias filled with candy stand for the happiness of giving generously to others. The garland of tiny flags used in Scandinavia stand for love of country. Small animals (of tin in Mexico, straw or thin wood in Scandinavia, and of delicate, shimmering blown glass in Germany), remind people of the animals at the manger.

Candy canes stand for the crooks the shepherds used.

And the shining star at the top of every tree stands for the bright star of wondrous size that shone - a long, long time ago - above the silent stable in Bethlehem.
